Waldorf schools offer a developmentally appropriate, experiential approach to education to inspire life-long learning and enable each student to fully develop their capacities.

Tamarack educates the whole child – head, heart, and hands - through the Waldorf curriculum which integrates academics with the arts.

Special subjects include foreign languages, handwork, music, drama, and movement. Playgroups are available for young children. Tamarack is a private school established in 1996 and affiliated with the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America. For more information call 414-277-0009.
